Introduction

Wood Mackenzie's bold vision is transforming the way we power our planet, and our mission includes the ambitious goal of accelerating the world's transition to a more sustainable future. We are looking ahead, and we visualize the transition we are committed to, first, by committing to our values which set the foundation for collaboration and innovation, and our mark to protect human rights at the workplace.

Wood Mackenzie's values are to be:

- Inclusive
- Trusting
- Customer Committed
- Future Focused
- Curious

'Inclusive' means we create a work environment where every individual feels valued and able to thrive and 'Trusting' means Wood Mackenzie values transparency and integrity. In tandem, these two values remind us of our responsibility to promote human rights in our workplace and sphere of influence, including the supply chain that sustains us and the communities where we live and work.

Through its global presence, Wood Mackenzie acts in accordance with the laws and regulations applicable in the jurisdictions where we conduct business. If and where we believe such laws and regulations fall short of expectations governing internationally recognized human rights, we will nevertheless strive to conduct business in a manner consistent with our culture and values.

The foundations of this Policy are informed by various principles expressed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights; the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights; the International Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights; the International Labour Organization's (ILO) Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

This Policy complements and should be read in conjunction with other Wood Mackenzie policies (available here) that reflect our beliefs as a company:

- Code of Business Conduct and Ethics
- Statement on Modern Slavery
- Statement on Inclusion Diversity & Belonging
- Supplier Code of Conduct, among others

Scope

This Policy applies to Wood Mackenzie Ltd and all of its affiliates and subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively called "Wood Mackenzie"), and their employees (including full and part-time), temporary workers, and contractors. We further accept the obligation to honour and promote human rights and the commitments contained herein with and among our business partners and other stakeholders.

Honouring Our Commitment

Communication & Training

All Wood Mackenzie employees shall receive a copy of this Policy and are required at time of hire or retention, and annually thereafter, to acknowledge receipt of the Policy and to confirm that they have read it and understand it.

All employees are required to complete training at time of hire and annually thereafter on unconscious bias, workplace diversity, data protection, and modern slavery.

Supplier Code of Conduct & Due Diligence Process

Provisions consistent with this Policy are also included in Wood Mackenzie's Supplier Code of Conduct (the "Code"), which requires suppliers to complete an annual Supplier Attestation acknowledging their ongoing compliance.

As part of Wood Mackenzie's third-party credentialing process, we contract with a leading risk and compliance organization to monitor whether our current and prospective Tier 1 suppliers are subject to sanctions. The organization scans content daily from government bulletins and news sources in our countries of operations, as well as in high-risk geographic areas, to identify instances where such suppliers may have been implicated in unlawful activity, including human rights abuses, modern slavery, or human trafficking. Wood Mackenzie reviews each potential violation, taking appropriate action when necessary, including termination of the business relationship.

Reporting Potential Violations

Anyone who suspects that a violation of this Policy or the law has occurred should report it immediately.

- Employees: employees should make such a report to Wood Mackenzie management or use the Speak Up Platform, described below.
- External stakeholders: external stakeholders should make such a report using Wood Mackenzie's Speak Up Platform, described below.

Speak Up Platform

The Speak Up Platform is operated and maintained by an independent third-party service. It provides Wood Mackenzie's stakeholders a way to safely report alleged human rights abuses, financial misconduct, bribery and corruption, data privacy, as well as other potential improprieties. The Speak Up Platform exists to ensure confidential reporting without fear of retaliation. Reports made via the Speak Up Platform can be made anonymously where permitted by law online or by phone 24/7/365 in local languages across the globe. A detailed process of how we handle such concerns can be found in our Speak Up Platform Policy.

Enforcement

Wood Mackenzie will investigate any potential breach or violation of this Policy. Wood Mackenzie reserves the right to report incidents to local authorities where warranted.

Disciplinary action taken by Wood Mackenzie will be commensurate with the violation and consistent with local requirements, which may include immediate dismissal or termination of a business relationship. Retaliation against an employee for complying with this Policy or making a whistleblower complaint is strictly prohibited.
